
PASSING THE BUCK-- That's the way a recent transaction between two Campbell councilmen (we won't name 'em to protect the innocent) has been described.

It seems that one councilman sold another councilman two tickets to a Warrior basketball game in one of those cooperative fund-raising deals in which a block of tickets is allotted to an organization by the Warrior management.

The organization gets the tickets at a greatly-reduced rate and keeps all the proceeds above the discount figure. It can be a good fund-raising operation, depending on how many tickets are sold.

In the particular case we refer to, this one councilman mistakenly sold this other councilman two tickets at a higher rate than others of the group were selling the same ducats.

Obviously when the error was "uncovered" or "discovered", there was considerable good-natured repartee between the seller and the buyer in this instance.

The end result was that the seller refunded his fellow councilman the so-called overcharge.

Appropriate remarks, of course, fitting the occasion were made by both parties involved.

"Passing the Buck", in this instance, had a somewhat different connotation than usual.

AFTER THE RECENT neighborhood park dedication program at Capri School the trustees of the school district and representatives from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) were guests of the city at lunch.

The program was held at Capri School but all seven of the neighborhood parks developed under the city-school district agreement were officially "dedicated" at the same time.

The city, from park bond funds voted in 1969, has appropriated $70,000 ($10,000 to each one) for development of the parks at Capri, Dover, Forest Hill, Hazelwood, Rolling Hills, Rosemary and San Tomas Schools.

Three of the sites, Capri, Forest Hill and Hazelwood received $5000 each from HUD funds and San Tomas will get $10,000.

Hence the reason for HUD officials participating in the program.

However, the HUD officials were unavoidably delayed leaving town after the lunch in the PruneYard by an unscheduled "lock-out".

They had to wait until the Campbell police managed to extricate their car keys from inside their locked car.

But, after all, in a way this car-key incident was a sort of fitting climax to end the day's events.

Due to circumstances, it had been sort of a KEYed-up affair anyway.

UNTIL LEGISLATION now pending in Sacramento is adopted which would legalize bingo for non-profit groups, and once and for all clarify the situation, those bingo games that have been run by church organizations and by some senior citizen groups may have been illegal.

That was the basic reason the Dad's Club at St. Lucy's decided last week to shut down the Tuesday night bingo games that have proved so popular during recent months for hundreds of players.

And the proceeds, we might add, have been a big financial help for the kids who attend St. Lucy's school.

The Dad's Club was not "forced" to close down the games but the decision was made when Chief Don Burr, who attended the last session, informed the people that the games "could be illegal."

Actually the club had decided to close down the games

SCHOOL DISTRICT TO PAY $45,000

Board votes 3-2 to settle Royer suit

by George Vierhus

Three Campbell Union (elementary) School District trustees, Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, Ralph Steinberg and Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, who in October, 1970, voted to demote Neal Royer as district superintendent, cast the three affirmative votes on Monday night approving the payment of $45,000 to Royer as an out-of-court settlement of the breach of contract suit brought by the deposed superintendent against the district.

Voting against the settlement were Dr. Bob King, board president, and Mrs. Judy Ruscigno, but for different reasons.

The breach of contract suit was scheduled on the court calendar for January 22, but the settlement was hammered out in the chambers of Superior Court Judge John S. McInerny with the counsels for both sides participating without the case going to trial.

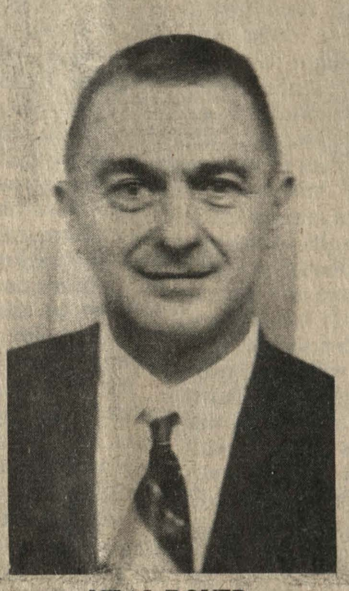
RATIFICATION

The vote by the trustees on Monday was actually a ratification of the settlement that had been announced by the judge last week. The vote was taken at the public meeting following an hour-long executive session.

However, the amount of the settlement was not announced until Tuesday, upon advice of the Deputy County Counsel Robert T. Owens, because Royer had to approve a minor modification in the original settlement agreement. The approval was obtained from Royer Tuesday morning.

Prior to the trustees going into the executive session on Monday, Mrs. Ruscigno read a lengthy statement into the record challenging the legality of any vote cast in the settlement by MacQuiddy, Steinberg and Mrs. Graham-Armstrong.

She claimed that public statutes prohibited any board member from acting in a public contract or transaction which might interfere with the unbiased discharge of his duty to the public. She charged that the three trustees have a mutual interest in the settlement because they are defendants in a companion law suit brought by Royer.



NEAL ROYER
--suit settled

(A separate suit filed by Royer for personal damages against MacQuiddy, Steinberg and Mrs. Graham-Armstrong is pending in court and will be on the calendar this summer. The settlement in the breach of contract suit does not affect the status of the other case.)

Mrs. Ruscigno's motion to table any action on the issue died for lack of a second and the board went into executive session.

VOTE TAKEN

At the general meeting following the executive session, Steinberg moved that the settlement agreement be executed. Mrs. Graham-Armstrong seconded the motion and it was approved by a 3-2 vote with MacQuiddy joining them in the vote.

Following their "no" votes, Dr. King and Mrs. Ruscigno made statements as to their reasons.

STATEMENTS

King explained that he had not been a board member when Royer was removed from the payroll and had not been privileged to any pertinent information which initiated the Royer vs CUSD suit.

He also added that he was not a party to the board position taken in March, 1971, when a "majority report" stipulated that the "board was fully confident that an impartial tribunal, after a full hearing on legally admissible evidence, will find that Mr. Royer materially breached his contract with the district".

TRAFFIC SURVEY ON E. CAMPBELL AVE.

Where are you going? Where are you from?

As part of the city-county joint traffic study of East Campbell Avenue and adjacent streets, a three-day traffic census count is under way on East Campbell Avenue, between Midway and Leigh avenues. Motorists are asked where trip started and where it will end and other pertinent questions.

Personnel from the public works departments of the city and county are assisting the traffic consultant, Russell Pearson, who has the survey contract, in conducting the census. It began on Tuesday of this week and will run through Thursday.

For four periods each day, with the cooperation of the Campbell Police Department, motorists traversing that portion of East Campbell Avenue between Midway and Leigh, will be stopped and questioned.

The schedule each day calls for a check from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m. and from 10:45 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. Then again from 12:15 p.m. to 1:15 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

On Tuesday morning the traffic was checked going west from Leigh and in the afternoon eastbound from Midway to Leigh.

On Wednesday, the count was made only westbound on traffic from Leigh and on Thursday only eastbound

CITIES MAKE PROPOSAL

Plan calls for city buses to connect with county lines

No resident within the City of Campbell would be farther away than one-quarter of a mile from a bus line, if the proposed plan, developed by cities within the Santa Clara County Transit District, becomes a reality.

Under the proposal, nine cities in the county would develop special bus lines within their respective city limits which would tie into the main "corridor lines" of the countywide system.

The intra-city lines would be financed by the transit district from a portion of the annual special sales tax income which is estimated to be about $7 million annually.

Approximately $2 million annually for the next five years from transit district funds is supposedly to be set up as a reserve toward an eventual fixed guideway system.

However, officials in the nine cities involved have indicated that the intra-city bus lines are of more immediate priority.

Under a formula that has been suggested, Campbell would receive $100,000 annually to operate the "feeder" bus lines within the city limits.

Campbell's City Council has approved the concept of the intra-city bus lines, as have the other councils of the cities involved.

In addition, an integrated plan for the bus lines in the four cities in this area, Campbell, Los Gatos, Saratoga, and Monte Sereno, has been drafted and approved by the public works departments of the four municipalities.

The proposal is based on the fact that there will be at least 200 buses operated by the transit district in the so-called "main corridors" of the county.

Since the take-over of the bus lines at the start of the year, approximately 60 buses are now rolling, practically the same number that were in service in previous years.

Officials point out that the transit situation is a long-range project and it could be five years before the full complement of buses are moving over the main lines.

City officials, however, are hopeful that the objective can be reached sooner, for both the intra-city and the countywide systems.

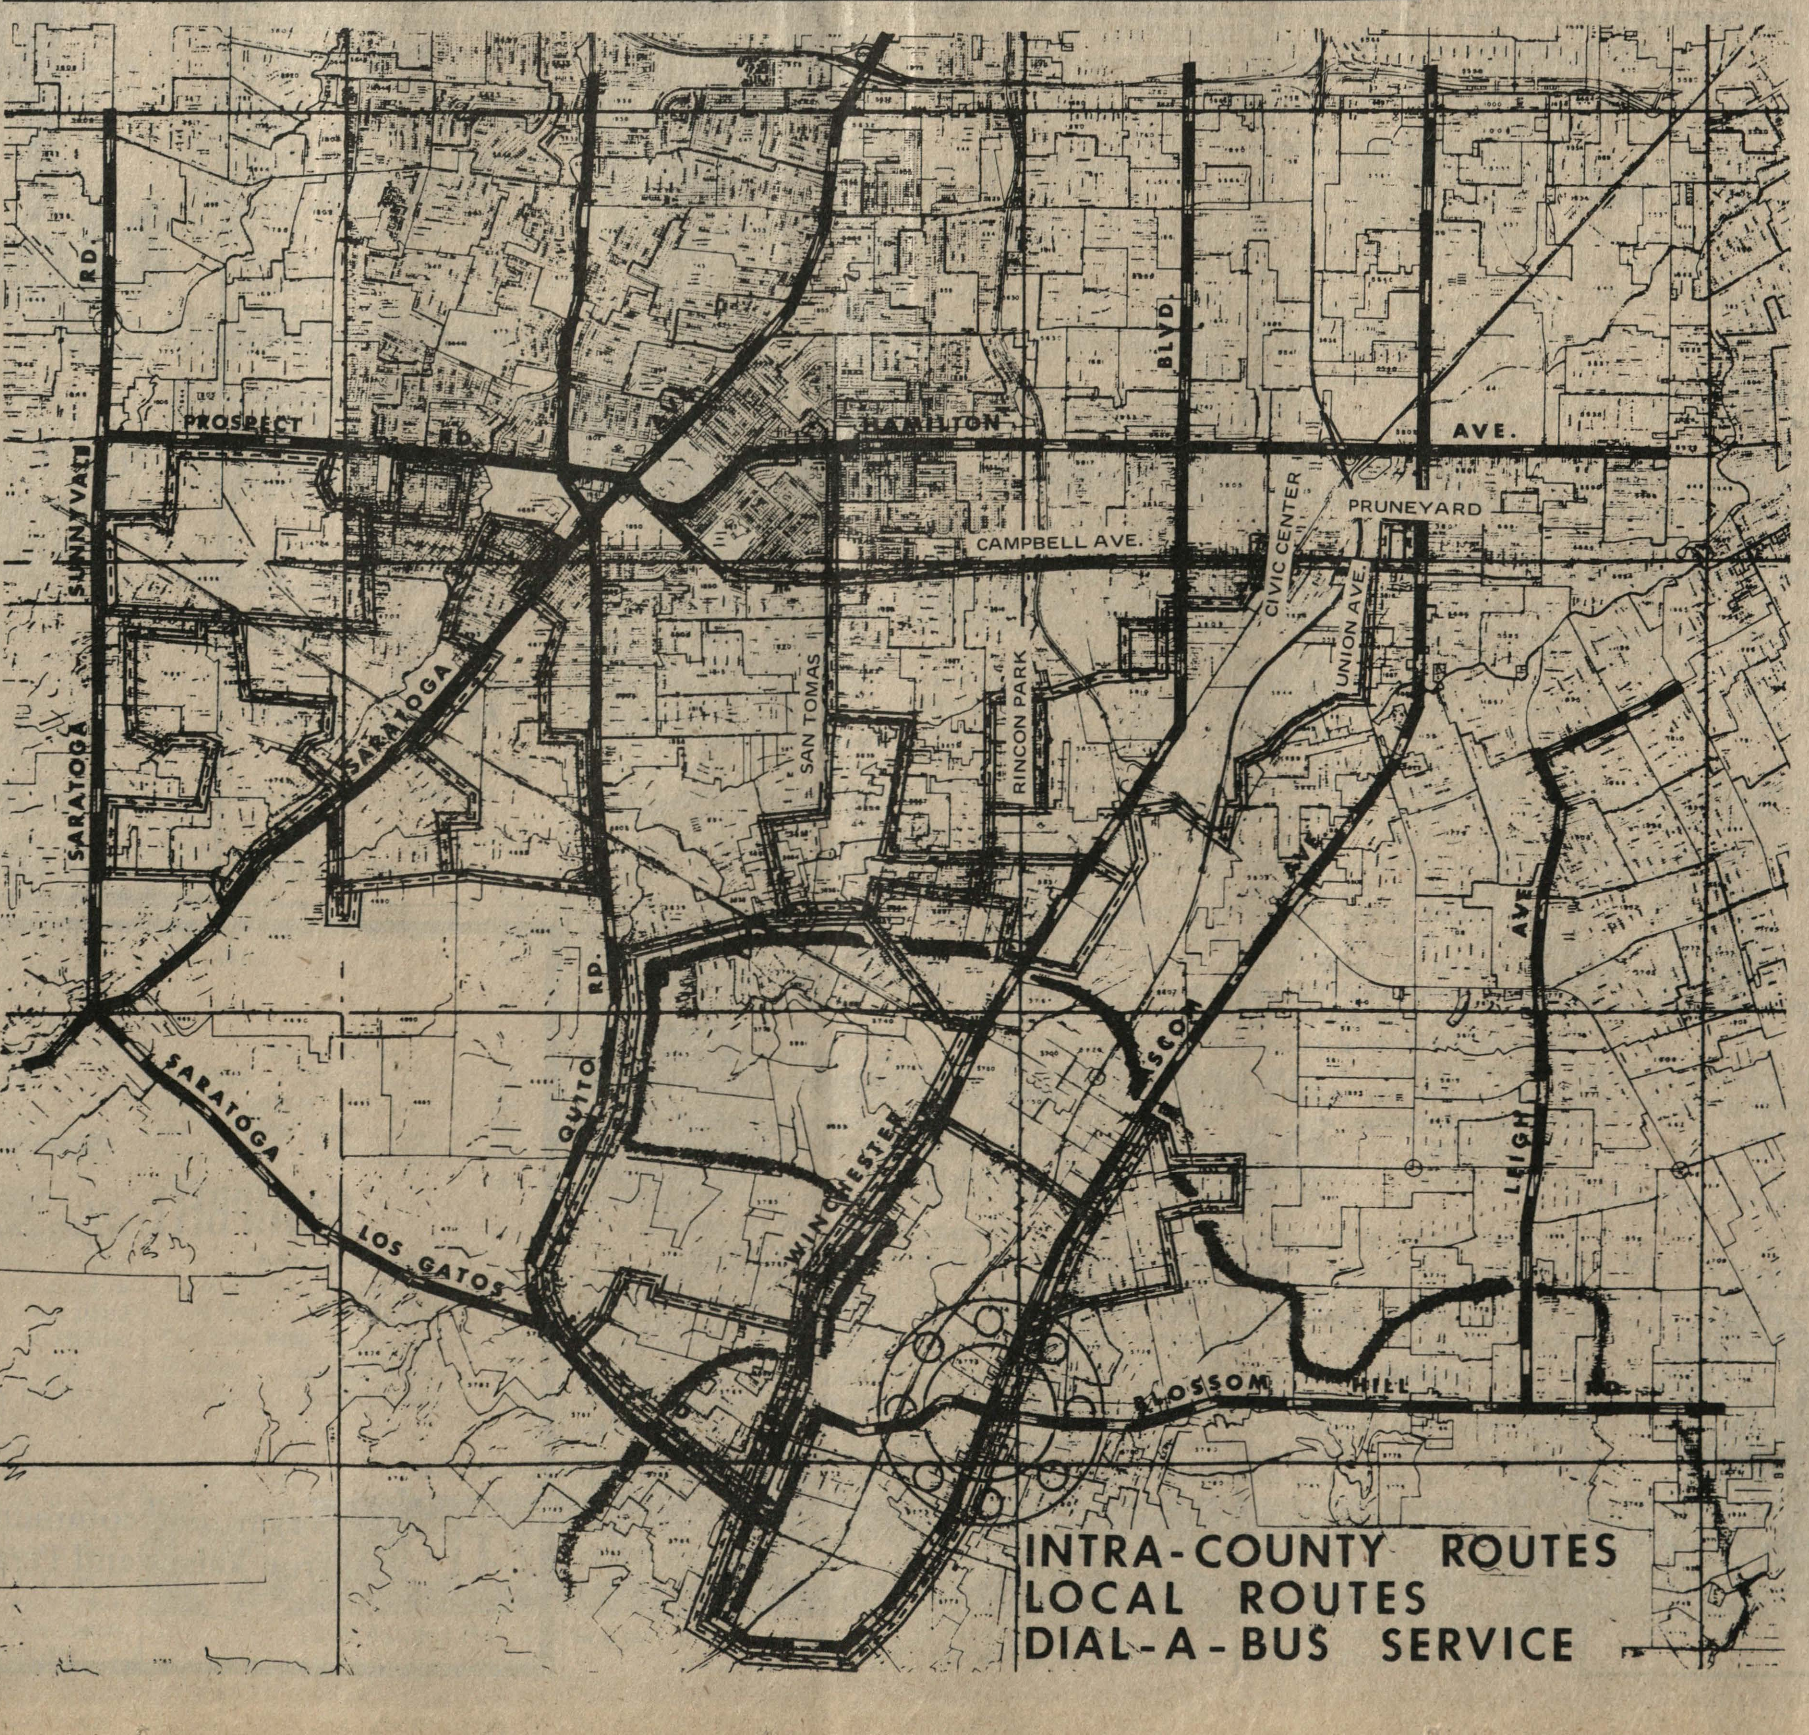
The plan, as proposed for the four cities in this area (above) suggests a "dial-a-bus" service in Los Gatos (Mountain View also favors such a system).

According to Bill Wren, public works director for Campbell, the proposal recommends seven buses to cover Campbell on 30-minute schedules for 14 hours each day and six days each week.

The proposed countywide "corridors" would be on Bascom, Winchester, Quito, Saratoga, Hamilton, Saratoga-Los Gatos and Blossom Hill. (See above.)

Wren said the proposed bus lines within Campbell would connect shopping centers, parks, schools, and employment centers. The city buses would carry 20-25 passengers as compared to the 45 capacity of the main line buses.

Wren added also that transfers would be possible and "bus stops" would be set up, as a rule, wherever the city lines intersect with the countywide "corridors." It has been suggested also that one fare would cover both systems.



Editorial

Why the "mystery"?

The developments surrounding the suit and subsequent settlement of the Neal Royer suit against the Campbell Union (elementary) School District raises some provocative questions with respect to a governing board's responsibility to the people.

We are well aware that it is entirely possible that all the details of the procedures that took place in the settlement of the case may never be revealed. So our conclusions, for that reason, may be somewhat incomplete.

And we concede that, supposedly, the entire matter was handled within proper legal framework and those who were striving to resolve a settlement were sincere and conscientious in their efforts.

We submit, however, that the procedures that were followed and subsequently reported did seem to have an aura of intrigue and mystery about them which, in our opinion, have no place in the actions of a public agency, such as a school board which exists to serve the people of the school district.

A daily newspaper in San Jose reported, for example, on Thursday, Jan. 25, that "mystery surrounds a closed-court settlement here Wednesday....Judge John S. McInerny announced a stiplated settlement had been agreed upon by counsel...."

Our question is, why the "mystery"?

Basically, of course, it has been pretty well established that litigation matters need not be discussed in public meetings of public agencies.

There is justification for the "executive sessions" used in such instances, to discuss all the ramifications. The final decision, however, must be made at a public meeting.

But we maintain there should be no need for coyness, deception, pretense or subterfuge with respect to actions pertaining to public interest taken by a public agency responsible to the people.

From time to time we believe the governing bodies of the public agencies should review the stated intent for the enactment of the "Brown Act".

We quote from one paragraph with respect to the "intent" of the act: .... "The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people and what is not good for them to know. The people insist on remaining informed so that they may retain control over the instruments they have created."

Now we admit that the trustees of Campbell Union (elementary) School District have the authority to make a settlement in a court case such as the Neal Royer one.

Royer's suit charged that the district breached his contract as superintendent.

And, we must assume, because of the so-called out-of-court settlement, that Royer won.

We mean that, if the district had NOT breached the contract, there would be no need for a settlement, would there?

Or are we over-simplifying the matter?

But it is our conclusion that the announcement of the out-of-court settlement that was made last Wednesday was premature, inasmuch as there was no official direction by the board, in either an executive or public meeting, as to whether the "proposed" settlement would be approved.

And the first time that any official action could be taken would be this Monday, Jan. 29.

We realize that when the governing bodies of these public agencies become involved in court cases and litigation matters, everything becomes a bit sticky or blurred and sometimes it is difficult to protect the people's interests for that reason.

We also realize that, in some instances, board members, upon advice of their counsel, are unable to "communicate" openly with their constituents on such matters.

It is our opinion, however, that many of these precautionary measures are unwarranted because, as it states in the intent of the Brown Act, "The people of this state do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies which serve them".

We contend that there have been times when the governing boards of these public agencies forget that they are serving the people.

We are also concerned over the procedures that were followed in arriving at a settlement in the Royer breach-of-contract suit against the district.

The San Jose paper reported..."mystery surrounds a closed-court settlement."

We simply ask again "why the mystery"?

prior to Don's statement. The final games were played without asking for the usual "suggested donation" but with the same prizes.

Chief Burr explained that following direction from the D.A.'s office, if the games continued, his department would have to investigate and turn the results over to the district attorney.

Obviously, if the games are interpreted as illegal, no organization wants to operate them.

But we have always thought it ridiculous that bingo games run for charitable purposes, without any professionals in the act, should be put in the same category with the shady underworld gambling rackets.

Somehow, in this day of so much concern over the rising crime rate, it seems so utterly incongruous to have law enforcement agencies worry over sociable bingo games in a church hall.

The law in this instance, we suggest, needs a legal loophole to take care of these particular situations.

Right on.

A RECENT NEWS RElease from the Veterans Administration starts out in this manner: "In Nevada and Alaska, every other man you meet is a veteran of military service, but in North Dakota and Mississippi, chances are that you would find only three veterans out of every ten males over age 16".

The VA made these conclusions after studying the census figures and, in addition, these census statistics are used for planning facilities, etc.

The most recent census report disclosed also that 43.1% of all males in the United States over 16 years of age are veterans and in Nevada veterans represent 52.4% of the males over 16 and in Alaska it is 51.6%.

We recognize that statistics are dry and usually boring. But when it is realized that with their families and dependent survivors of deceased veterans, they make up almost half of the population of the United States, that does make quite a bunch.

As a World War II participant, we were interested to note that there are 14.6 million of our breed around with an average age of 52.6.

There are 14.1 million World War I at an average age 77.5 and 3,000 from the Spanish-American War at 92.8 and the 4.6 million from the Korean conflict average 40.9 in age.

And now that the Vietnam situation is winding down, we learn that 12-year tragic era will account for 20% of the total veteran population of 28.9 million. Since 1964, there have been six million involved there at an average age of 27.6.

Don't these figures make you think?

Or shudder?

SPEAKING OF NEWS REleases, recently the office received a two-page announcement from the director of corporate public relations from the H.J. Heinz Co., in Pittsburgh, Pa.

It announced that the president of the company had appointed John H. Newhall as director Central Europe.

We are sure that you all will be greatly relieved to learn about that.

For the life of us, we cannot figure why the director of corporate public relations of the H. J. Heinz Co. thought our two-bit provincial community weekly would be concerned over who will be the director for Central Europe for good ol' Heinz.

We could cite about 57 variety of reasons why we wouldn't be.

ANOTHER PUBLICITY buff we received recently concerned an outfit from Concord, California that offers "lunch flights."

The impressive two-color brochure informed us, on the first page, that we were invited to lunch for $101.50. Then in big letters was the word "outrageous."

Naturally we read on.

For that price ($101.50) we learned we would be picked up (and five of our business associates, clients, friends or whoever) at an airport and flown to the Nut Tree where we all would have lunch..

Y'know, we just might take them up on that "outrageous" offer..

That is, if we can find five of our associates, friends or clients, to go along with us.

Letters to the Editor

POSTAL SERVICE

Dear Sir:

At a recent meeting of the letter carriers of Campbell a discussion was held on our mail delivery problem. It was decided that as president of our group I should write a letter to the editor and try to explain our situation to our customers.

The new United States Postal Service is striving to reduce costs and as a result we have been working under a hiring freeze for a period of almost one year. This means when one of our carriers leaves the Campbell Post Office, he can not be replaced by hiring a new employee. This has reduced our working force to the extent that when one of our carriers cannot report for work for any reason we have no ready replacement for him.

Everyday carriers are not only serving their own route but are working on another route as well. We do not have any carriers who can case and carry their own eight hour route and also assist on other routes in this same eight hour period. As a result somebody somewhere is going to get late mail delivery.

In the years I have worked in the Campbell Post Office, all employees have had their days off cancelled during the Christmas seasons and we worked a twelve hour day. This year higher authority decreed that we would have our regular days off as we needed the rest and we could only work two hours a day overtime because expenses must be held down. Most of our customers are aware of the results of this order as we were still delivering Christmas cards and packages in January 1973.

The net results of this savings technique meant you paid first class postage rate on your Christmas cards but did not receive first class service.

Statistics will no doubt prove that during the Christmas seasons more mail was moved at less cost and with less personnel than in previous years. The statistics will not include the fact that we were still moving Christmas mail in January or that the letter carriers were still working overtime almost everyday and being asked to work on their day off in January to move the backlog.

The latest improvement in service to our customers is also confusing to the letter carriers of Campbell. Effective January 6, 1973, half of our clerk force along with some equipment were moved to San Jose main office. The purpose behind this is so the clerks can work at night and we letter carriers can then receive the bulk of our mail sorted to our routes earlier in the morning.

The results of this move has caused the letter carrier to actually receive the bulk of his mail at approximately 7:45 a.m. or later in the morning. When our clerks worked the mail in Campbell, the mail was called up at approximately 8 a.m. and most carriers were out on the street by 9 a.m. This improved system puts the carrier out on the street one half to one hour later. This is called the preferential mail system, which in our opinion means you get your mail whenever the Postal Service prefers it.

The letter carriers of Campbell apologize to their customers and we only hope that the next improvement by the Postal Service doesn't result in an increase in postal rates along with the issuing of ponies to the letter carrier to cut down on overhead costs.

We ask only one thing from our customers, don't get upset at your letter carrier for late or delayed mail delivery. We deliver to you as fast as we get your mail. If you are truly upset about the United States Postal Service write to your senator or congressman and express your feelings. He can do something for you because we are still a government agency. Please remember after we go home and take off our uniform we are postal customers and get just as upset about the service as you do.

We as letter carriers are caught in the middle, management says do more with less help and the customer wants to know why it takes longer for mail to get from here to there. We are doing our best the best we can.

Sincerely,
Robert McClain,
President

GEORGE FARRIER

Long-time county librarian plans to retire on May 21

County Librarian George Farrier, who has been working closely with City of Campbell officials in planning for the new branch library here, will retire on May 21, according to Howard Campos, county executive.

The Campbell library, which will be built by the city and then leased to the county library district, has been in the planning stages since 1967 when $400,000 in bond funds for the structure were approved by the local voters.

Plans for the library are now in the final stages and the architect has indicated that they may go to bid this summer.

Farrier, 64, a Los Gatos resident, has headed the county library system since March 1959, and his career in librarianship has extended over a 42-year period.

He explained that he is announcing his retirement well in advance of his departure date to allow the County adequate time to select a replacement.

Farrier, who owns 400 acres in Siskiyou County, near Yreka, said he and his wife will establish a home there and "try a little ranching."

Farrier said he also will raise some livestock for his own benefit and experiment in reforestation programs.

Farrier, who was born in Lake County, came to San Jose when he was four years old. He graduated from Horace Mann Elementary School, the old San Jose High School, and Stanford University, where he received an A.B. in Far Eastern history.

His first library job was as a page in the County Libraries from 1925 to 1931.

From 1931 to 1936 Farrier worked for Pacific Gas & Electric Co. as a clerk while studying at Stanford for a secondary teaching credential.

–librarian to retire

He became a teacher-librarian at a Fresno high school in September, 1936. In 1942 he moved to the University of California, Berkeley, Library, then to the Hayward Public Library as chief librarian in 1946 and to the Alhambra Public Library again as chief librarian in 1948. He moved from there to the County Librarian position in 1959.

Since that date Farrier has been the chief administrator of the County Library system which provides service to approximately 180,000 residents of the County's unincorporated areas, plus 80,000 residents in eight of the smaller cities, and the children in 94 elementary schools.

The library operates 13 branches and three bookmobiles with approximately three-quarters of a million books. The library budget this year is $1.5 million.

Farrier is a member of the American and California Library Associations, and various other professional librarian groups.

He and his wife, Grace, live at 15820 Orange Blossom Lane, Los Gatos. They have five grown children, two sons and three daughters.

from Midway.

While the census is being conducted, traffic on East Campbell Avenue only moves one way on that portion of the street.

The main objective of the study is to identify auto trip origins and destinations, trip purpose and other travel characteristics in the vicinity.

Interviewers indicated that the motorists have been cooperative for the most part and are held up only briefly by the six checkers on duty. Approximately 200 were questioned during the first hour the survey was in effect.

In addition to the basic to and from questions, the motorists are also asked to check other major streets that they use including, S. Bascom, Winchester, San Tomas, Hamilton, Leigh, Meridian, Curtner, etc.

They are asked how many trips they have made during the past seven days and the purpose of the trip, e.g., work, shopping, social, school, etc.

The traffic consultant, whose fee is being shared equally by the city and county, is expected to file his recommendation within two weeks.

The heavy through traffic on East Campbell Avenue has long plagued the residents on that street and they appealed to the City Council to help them with their problem.

A blockade at Midway was proposed but was deferred until the survey was completed. The installation of four-way stop signs at Midway and Campbell did not alleviate the conditions and were removed after a six-week trial.

Residents on the adjacent streets, mostly in county territory, as well as county traffic people, objected to the Midway blockade because it was felt it would increase the traffic on their streets.

Both city and county officials are hopeful that the traffic consultant's forthcoming recommendation will be helpful in solving the problem.

CANTATA REPEATED

The combined youth and sanctuary choirs of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell will present the hour-long cantata, "King of Glory, Lord of Light" at the 10:30 morning worship service on Sunday, February 4, The cantata, composed and directed by Robert Campbell, choirmaster, was first presented during the 1972 holiday season.

Friends of the church are invited. The church is located at 1675 Winchester Blvd. in Campbell.

SKI THEFT

The skiing trip of one Campbell couple was marred last week when ski equipment valued at $600 was stolen from their car, according to the police report.

Phillip E. Bonham, 999 W. Hamilton Ave., reported the following items missing; two pair of skis, two poles and a pair of ski bindings.

The equipment was secured to the rack of the Bonham auto and the theft occurred as the couple finished packing for their trip.

District

Therefore, King concluded, he could not see any valid reason to support the settlement.

In explaining her "no" vote, Mrs. Ruscigno submitted that expediency seemed to be prompting the settlement and that the "expediency" appeared connected with the personal damage suit filed by Royer against the three trustees.

BLASTS MRS. RUSCIGNO

In a final matter just before recessing the meeting until Tuesday at 5 p.m., in a prepared statement, blasted Mrs. Ruscigno for her statements to the press which appeared in the San Jose Mercury and News last Friday.

Dr. King questioned the veracity of Mrs. Ruscigno's statement when she was quoted as saying, "I do not know the amount or the terms of the unauthorized settlement, since County Counsel has not produced an agreement signed by Royer."

In his statement, King emphasized that "you don't have to SEE an agreement signed by Mr. Royer to be informed of the proposed terms of the settlement. Mrs. Ruscigno was consulted and was informed of the amount of the settlement which is subject to Board approval."

King then concluded by extending a public apology, as board president, to Judge McInerny and the attorneys involved in the case, for Mrs. Ruscigno.

ANOTHER CHAPTER

The board action Monday in the settlement added another chapter to a controversial situation that has been a divisive factor in the school district for more than two years.

In October, 1970, by a 3-2 vote of the board, Royer was demoted as superintendent and assigned as principal of Forest Hill School. At the time Royer was in the second year of his second four-year contract as superintendent at an annual salary of approximately $30,000.

His contract as superintendent, incidentally, would have extended to June 30, 1973 and the settlement agreement provides for the district to contribute to his retirement until that time.

Royer continued to receive his superintendent's salary until July of 1971 when he was removed from the district payroll. He then accepted the position, which he currently holds, as assistant superintendent in the Atascadero school system.

Royer subsequently filed the breach of contract suit against the district for approximately $500,000 and the defamation charges against the three board members for $1,075,000.

WATCH YOUR PURSE

In recent weeks the police blotter of the Campbell Police Department has been dotted with reports of purse thefts.

Most of these occur in the parking lots of area shopping centers. Women, planning to be away from their car for just a minute, have left their purses on the front seat or floor of their car.

Even a minute was too long in these cases. If you're going to leave your car... DON't leave your purse.

There was a lot of pushing and shoving by another school group but at the end we had the rink to ourselves.

By the time we were done everyone was ready to collapse. We're going to try and get our "skate legs" again.

US IN BERKELEY?

On Tuesday, January 23, your reporters, accompanied by Marshall Otter and Robbie "Rubby" Faulconer, treked to the University of California, Berkeley campus.

Once we arrived, we went to Sproule Plaza, site of past protests, peace demonstrations, and the free speech movement. On this quiet sunny afternoon, we only saw one screaming evangelist and a pretzel vendor.

We met Karen, who showed us the dorms and around the campus.

Our tour was a different one than most. Karen took us through dorm rooms, dining halls (affectionately called dying halls) and libraries.

On the trip home, we expected the worst, after getting six minutes worth of parking for two hours worth of change, and having pedestrians play havoc with our car by using it as a drum.

As Marsh read and laughed at license plates and Rubby read to ignore accidents, we bravely clutched our seats and cringed as we thought of what's ahead for us in college.

Warrior of the week (January 22-26), is Robbie Stegman, sophomore, and star of the F/S hoopsters.

Ms.: What did you do with Paul?
Sybil: He went to the Post Office. Something about a shipping crate big enough for two people and a groundhog.

and PROCESSES

UPCOMING EVENTS, NEWS, & GOSSIP

Girls Sports finals were held last Saturday at Del Mar for both basketball and hockey. The G.S. hockey team went there undefeated. Results were not known at press time.

Colleen Rooney--do you still have a thing for Mickey Dolenz?

Westmont vs. Del Mar here at 7, February 2.

Carol--we like your boat shoes.

Lynne Hermle--are you Betty Hermle's daughter?

Westmont vs. Campbell (listening Sandy Mann?) there at 3:30, February 6.

Per Garstedt received a new pair of clogs from Sweden, which he started wearing at semester break.

Cheri Wright, now that you have a subscription to the Campbell Press, you'd better read our column.

Sybil: Maureen, what did he mean by a packing crate for two?
Ms.: Well, I don't know. Maybe you'd better go find him and find out. You beat him up pretty hard, and lugging that crate around he's probably dead or worse.

BELATED CHRISTMAS

Santa Claus came late for us this year. Perhaps through the fog of death it was hard to see the light at the end of the tunnel.

Because it was so dark and muddy with blood, the wounded dove we'd asked for had a hard time breaking through the barrier into the warmth of the healing sun.

He made it though.

And he's winging his way home now after many ragged miles.

With him comes the hope of a weary world that he now will stay for a long while as the hawk hopefully will stay away for a long, long time.

Ms.: S.H. she was hitting him so hard we'll probably never see him again.
S.H.: I wouldn't worry. As long as he's got a crate to keep him occupied.
Ms.: Enough of this stupid crate! What crate?

EGO CORNER

Ego corner is awarded this week to Henry Kissinger and Le Duc Tho, for their humanitarian efforts in the healing of the white dove.

After thirteen years of an overbearing hawk, these two men both pride themselves on ending the reign, and winning the war for their countries.

And after almost a decade and a half--what does it matter who "won" the technicalities if man can sleep easily in a small country in the far east at night?

Ms.: Paul, I've had enough of this. What is this with a crate? It's so big, and wallpapered in stamps. Where's it going to? What's it say...the lower depths of Hades? Paul ...who's in there?
Paul: Gloria..and Sybil..and...
Paul & Ms.: Mike Lindsey!

Passing the Buc

by Sandy Mann

Hi Gang! I feel great today. The mere fact that I survived Algebra without a nervous breakdown calls for a celebration far into the night. But unfortunately, here I am, chained to my typewriter, with a particularly boring column this week. So what do I do to keep the both of us from falling asleep?

The answer is obvious. Do something different, ridiculous, absurd! I'll get your attention by letting myself go completely bananas!

In other words, I'll do what the Westmont column does every week; between the boring bits of information they laughingly call "news", I'll insert completely unintelligible dialogue and capture the hearts of millions!

THE CAMPBELL FOOT IN MOUTH

Her: Well, here we are again, ready with all the news that's fit to print...
Him: Which leaves us with exactly...
Her: Nothing!
Him: What!?!
It: Can we help it if Campbell is "that" kind of school?

BILL BRANSON MAKES THE GRADE

Notice was received on Janary 22 that Campbell's head percussionist, Bill Branson, has been accepted to the California All-State Band that will be held at Fullerton State University on Feb. 16, 17 and 18.

Sounds easy? It's not. Bill won his place in the band by competing against over 1000 other students of which only 125 are picked for THE top band in the state.

Besides being our top drummer, Bill is our award-winning drum major, the leader of the band that plays for Campbell's singing group Fantasma, and a part-time mustache grower.

Him: Well, there's got to be something good we can write about that we heard at school...
Her: Hey! I heard something at school that's really good!
Him and It: Yeah?
Her: Well it seems there was this traveling salesman...

A FLASH FROM FORENSICS

Congratulations to the Campbell Speech and Debate team, who earned a fifth place trophy in the Sweepstakes award at a recent tournament held at West Valley College in competition with many other schools. A sweepstakes award is given to the schools who acquire the highest accumulation of points, when all the scores from all the events have been added together into a lump sum by schools.

Him: Hey! You can't tell that joke here!
Her: Why not? It went over well in the Girls' Gym...
Him: Is that what they're teaching you in P.E.?
Her: Well, ever since Mrs. Schnyer broke her leg skiing, we've all turned into wanton women. P.E. just isn't the same without her.
It: Gee, that's horrible. Tell her to get well soon. We can't take much more of this...

UPCOMING EVENTS, NEWS AND GOSSIP

Friday, Feb. 2 at 3 p.m. is soccer at Westmont. Westmont--prepare to be (I almost hate to be so trite) "stomped"! At 3:30 is wrestling here against Los Gatos, and at 7 is f/s varsity basketball at Los Gatos. (What--no ice hockey?)

Saturday, Feb. 3, is WVAL-JV wrestling tournament at Los Gatos. Don't ask me what the letters stand for. I don't know.

On Sunday, Feb. 4 at 7 p.m. is a special treat for all you sports fans. The California Golden Seals Hockey team will be playing the Montreal Canadians at the Oakland Coliseum. The ticket prices have been cut in half, and although this has nothing to do with school sports, I thought you might want to know...

Him: Come now! Ice Hockey? Aren't you pushing it a little?
Her: Hmmph! Dolphins and A's may fade away, but hockey is forever.
It: Tell me another good one!

On Tuesday, Feb. 6 at 3 p.m. is Soccer with Branham, here, and at 3:30 is f/s and varsity basketball against the Westmont ("double dribble") Warriors. here.

FLASH TO BANDROOM CRONIES: Is it true that B.H. is after R.L.? And if so, why?

FLASH TO MR. LYNCH: Is it true that you lied about your age and you're really only seventeen?

FLASH TO MR. SAVAGE: Is it true that the upcoming POPS CONCERT is only a champagne party for those who don't want to face the music?

EGO CORNER

This week (this being the ONLY week I'll be doing this feature) I award the ego corner to Jane Meredith, for reasons better than personal prejudice. I'll bet many of you don't even know who she is. Naturally. She is so busy doing things for people, and keeping up her straight A average that she is not usually around.

It all began with Jane playing the piano for orchestra. Okay. A couple of hours a week left her time to do her homework, practice the piano two hours a day, and work on her musical.

Then she became the piano player for the singing group "Fantasma". There went 45 minutes of lunch, and some afternoons, and evenings.

And on top of that, thinking that she had a full thirty minutes of time during her day to herself, she spent two weeks playing music in the auditions for the spring musical, "Brigadoon". And all this with an "A" average.

In addition she is preparing for a big recital in March, she is entered in a Composers and Authors contest for the piano, which she won last year, and she is writing music for a musical comedy.

And so, for all the people in the Orchestra, Fantasma, and Brigadoon who Jane has helped to be successful over the months, if you would slip her a word of thanks for all she's done, it might help to make her day a little easier.

Him: I can't believe it!! Slobbering sentimentality from Sandy Mann?!!
Her: Are you kidding? This is done by my PR staff for a flat fee.
It: Say what you want, but WE know the truth.
Her: ...the shadow knows...
Him: Shut up, you banana. It's time to go. Onward and downward!
Her: Geronimo!

Couple invited to Inaugural--twice

One Campbell couple had the honor of receiving, not one, but two invitations to the recent Inauguration of President Richard M. Nixon in Washington, D.C., and then were unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campos, 819 Chapman Dr., were both surprised and highly honored, according to Anita Campos, but are puzzled as to why they received two invitations.

Campos is assistant to the Director of Personnel for Affirmative Action for the City of San Jose and has also been active in the manpower project SER (Service Employment Redevelopment).

Last October both he and Mrs. Campos attended the signing ceremonies of the $18 million dollar SER contract at the Western White House at San Clemente. The ceremonies also included a luncheon and a tour of the spacious grounds.

Anita is now serving on the city's Civic Improvement Commission while their daughter, Becky, is past chairman and current vice-chairman of the Youth Commission. Both are serving on the Citizen's Advisory Goals Committee. The Campos family also includes a son, David, a ninth grade student.

While they have not attended an inauguration, the Campos' are not strangers to the White House. During the late President Johnson's administration they were guests there at a dinner honoring the Prime Minister of New Zealand.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Campos are registered Democrats and active workers for their party.

"Hearts a Poppin" concert slated at Campbell High

"Hearts-A-Poppin," will be the theme of the annual Campbell High School Pops Concert on Friday, February 9 and Saturday, February 10, at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria, 1 West Campbell Ave.

Honor orchestra performs on Tuesday

Music students of Campbell Union School District will perform on Tuesday, February 6, at Campbell Elementary School.

Called the District Honor Orchestra, students primarily in seventh and eighth grades, who qualified by audition, will offer a number of musical selections to parents and friends in the Campbell cafetorium at 7:30 p.m.

Excerpts from Dvorak's "New World Symphony," selections from Meredith Willson's "Music Man" and from Schubert's "Rosamunde Overture" will be featured. Neal Locke, Rolling Hills School; Elizabeth French, Monroe School, and Susan Anderson, Blackford School, will perform piano solos, and Jan McCreery, Rolling Hills, will be clarinet soloists.

The Honor Orchestra performs twice each school year and will give their second concert on May 15. Ed Tonini, regular director of the orchestra, will be unable to participate, so the directing duties have fallen to Wally Johnson, co-director of the group.

The public is invited to attend.

MRS. FLOYD WOODCOCK

State leader welcomed here

The president of the Rebekah Assembly of California, Mrs. Floyd Woodcock, will be the honored guest of the Freja Rebekah Lodge, 284, of Saratoga at their Monday, February 5 meeting at the Odd Fellows Home for the Aged.

"Sound of Music" disappointing

by Steve Rockwell

The major asset of "The Sound of Music," the current attraction presented by the San Jose Music Theater, are the sets designed by Dwight McBride. They are highly professional and the best seen in community theater for quite some time. The remainder of the show is stamped with "amateur."

The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical has become a classic for community groups and this production reeks with unsatisfying qualities. This reviewer had expected polished performances from the pro-publicity releases about guest stars Claudia Cummings and John Tyers.

Miss Cummings in the major role of Maria, played on Broadway by Mary Martin and later in the movies by Julie Andrews, lacked the warmth and the true concern that her character needed. She tries hard to be girlish and energetic; in fact, she tries too hard. She has no relationship with the other actors and especially with the children. Although she has a trained soprano voice, she seemed to take unnecessary liberties with the music to show the extent of her training.

Tyers in the role of Captain Von Trapp never has the opportunity to demonstrate his voice except in the "Edelweiss" number which does not require brilliant singing. His acting is stiff, but so is the written role.

Velma Holly adds a new concept in the portrayal of the Mother Abbess. She has a great voice which fills the auditorium but needs to relax during the book scenes. She was a great favorite with the capacity audience on Saturday night. Other top performances were turned in by Diana Caperello as Liesl and Kari Bol as Elsa.

One of the high moments in the show were the chorus numbers by the nuns. They were well rehearsed and had an outstanding sound. I would like to single out the voice of Nancy Tuthill, graduate of Prospect High School, as having unusual high quality in the opening sequence. The other nuns which form the quartet, Phyllis Bernero, Naomi Heid, and Judy Scott, along with Miss Holly, do an extra good job of "Maria."

The costumes, the "professional" orchestra, and the direction were less than the standards now set in community theater. Therefore, this production falls below the norm for the San Jose Music Theater. "The Sound of Music" will play weekends through February 17 in the Montgomery Theater. For tickets, call 286-6841.

RAMBLINGS WITH ROCKWELL..."Come Blow Your Horn" opens this Thursday and Friday at Campbell High School...Leigh High now rehearsing "Fiddler on the Roof"...ditto Prospect High with "Hello, Dolly!"..."I Do, I Do" still on the boards at Saratoga Civic Center. For tickets, call 356-6410...Children's Music Theater to hit the road to Palo Alto and Burlingame with "Music Man"...Lila Lloyd, a past "Dolly," will direct Music Theater's children's production of same show...Alan Haydis will be musical director for Saratoga's "Man of La Mancha" to open on March 16...Auditions soon for West Valley's "Desert Song"...Radio station KSJO also now running theater reviews on weekends at 1:00 and 5:30 p.m.

ATTENDS SCHOOL

Ken Green, secretary of Campbell Moose Lodge No. 1811, will attend the Moose Administration School to be held at the Airport-Sheraton Inn in Los Angeles, California on February 3 and 4.

It was "tee off" time at the BING CROSBY OPEN in Pebble Beach and KEN and CAROL CASTEEL were there. Carol was snapping pictures as fast as her camera would permit. She said that later she was able to have a short conversation with many of the stars, among them GLEN CAMPBELL, DEAN MARTIN, CLINT EASTWOOD, TENNESSEE ERNIE FORD and golf pros DOUG SANDERS and BOBBY NICHOLS. Incidentally, hubby Ken was able to get a picture of Carol and JAMES GARNER together. But Ken said the most enjoyable part of the weekend for him was just seeing all that good, good golf being played....

Mr. and Mrs. VERNON PADGETT just returned from an eight-day vacation in Hawaii. The trip was funded by gifts received from friends at a surprise 25th wedding anniversary party given for the Padgetts by their children last June....

REV. A. W. MYERS and ROBERT CULP were among the many leaders of the Campbell Congregational Church who were honored at a special dinner held Sunday at the Los Gatos Lodge....

Saturday was party night for the Polish American Education Committee when they held their annual ball in South San Francisco. Etchings part of gallery showing at Villa Montalvo

The February gallery showing at Villa Montalvo in Saratoga will feature the jewelry, paintings, and etchings of two very different local artists.

Marilyn Dorsa brings to the galleries her prize winning jewelry and paintings. Her short career has covered many fields of interest, including music, singing and community projects. Today her artistic talents are directed toward painting and jewelry making.

A recent California Today article featured Mrs. Dorsa's jewelry.

Marcia/maris presents her etchings in the galleries in two groups. The works to be shown represent a small part of her production over the last four years.

The artist has done illustrations for several children's books and an album of music by Gertrud Roberts and poetry by Ruth Barati, entitled Twelve Time Gardens.

The showing begins with a reception for the artists, open to the public, February 4, 2 to 4 p.m. Regular gallery hours thereafter will be 1 to 4 p.m. through February 28 except when closed on Mondays. Admission is free except weekends when a donation of 25-cents is asked.

POSTER PREVIEW --- Marty Mim Mack, 11-year-old Santa Clara boy who is March of Dimes goodwill ambassador, and Dr. William Jefferds, Alum Rock School District superintendent, gets a preview look at the posters going up this week in advance of the March 11 second annual Santa Clara County Walk-A-Thon to prevent birth defects. Dr. Jefferds is volunteer chairman of the event and Marty is grand marshal. Sponsor sheets are available at McDonald's Restaurants, 7-11 Stores, KLIV Radio, and the National Foundation-March of Dimes, 1171 Lincoln Ave., San Jose. The 20-mile route will go through parts of San Jose, Santa Clara, and Campbell.

Walk-A-Thon date announced

The Santa Clara County chapter, National Foundation-March of Dimes, which last year raised $131,000 in a Walk-A-Thon to prevent birth defects, has set Sunday, March 11 as the date for this year's Walk-A-Thon. Chairman is Dr. William Jefferds, superintendent of the Alum Rock Union School District, who will be among the walkers.

Sponsor sheets for prospective participants are now available at McDonald's Restaurants, 7-11 Stores, KLIV Radio, or the National Foundation-March of Dimes at 1171 Lincoln Ave., San Jose. Each walker lines up sponsors who will donate a certain amount to the March of Dimes for every mile covered. Last year, 10,000 individuals walked.

(Dr. Jefferds' first sponsors were three Washington, D.C., men, here for a meeting concerning the Federal school voucher program in which the Alum Rock School District is involved. Denis Doyle, director of the program, Martin Milrod, and Joe Wilkes pledged $2 for each mile Dr. Jefferds covers.)

Marty Mim Mack, 11-year-old Santa Clara boy who is national goodwill ambassador for the March of Dimes, will again be grand marshal for the Walk-A-Thon, which will start at the University of Santa Clara's Buck Shaw Stadium. Walk-A-Thon leaders will be "Crazy George" Henderson, perennial San Jose State cheerleader who is a Buchser High School (Santa Clara) teacher, and John Bettencourt, KLIV Radio personality.

Most of the walkers in the 1972 Walk-A-Thon, the first in Santa Clara County for the March of Dimes, were young people, although those of all ages participated.

"We expect even more to participate in this year's Walk-A-Thon," Dr. Jefferds reported. "Today's young people want to get involved, and this is a good way to be involved--to take part in an activity that produces funds for a worthwhile cause."

The March of Dimes is the fund-raising arm of The National Foundation, national voluntary health agency concentrating on the fight against birth defects through research, education and service.

Classes begin on February 2 and new members will be accepted through February 16. They will be held at the Amber Drive school which is located on Amber Drive, five blocks south of Williams Road between Winchester Avenue and San Tomas Expressway in San Jose.

For further information call 226-3016 or 262-0390.

Business Beat

Campbell is rapidly attaining the reputation of being a good place to find good food --foreign, family style and gourmet.

Recently joining the ranks of eateries is Poor Yorick's on Campbell Avenue across from the PruneYard. Owner Marge Garza says she worked up from the ranks, from car hop to waitress, to cooking, learning all the ins and outs.

Last year she looked at a house on Campbell Avenue and decided that it was the perfect spot to offer food in a home-like atmosphere and took upon remodeling it herself.

She admits to having never raised a hammer before, but with an ability to read instructions, she built 300 feet of fences and completely remodeled the house, still leaving all the original rooms intact.

She's proud that all her foods are homemade and that her menu features variety but no high prices...Campbell CofC has a new (old) (young) face...it's Judy (Rothwell) Padgett, who served as Campbell's first YES secretary (Youth Employment Service) who has permanently taken the job of CofC sec'ty. Former secretary Connie Clark, out for some weeks because of illness, will not be returning. Welcome Judy, we'll miss you, Connie....

Speaking of welcoming back, Barclay's Bank has a new (old) face...Bill Ziegler, who was manager of the Campbell office when it was First Valley, has returned...

AROUND TOWN

"Wheels" is gone from Winchester, but not far we understand, just over on Kennedy where they'll specialize in wire-wheel manufacture...and slipping quietly next door into Wheel's former spot is Atkins TV...familiar faces continue to "pop up" in different locales...Mrs. Dorothy Benevento, former owner of Colleen's in Campbell Plaza, is now managing the Gold Hanger at San Tomas Plaza...speaking of the Plaza, drop in on Phil Costanza at Foods of Italy and take a look at his decoupage pictures--Phil did 'em himself...

Sambo's Lou da Silva gets quite a kick out of customers asking why his sign is at half-mast....

Mrs. Fern Jolimay presented Certificates of Appreciation for outstanding service in leadership to girls to 35 adults who had served in one or more capacity during the year involving group organization and the camping program.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Jan Black led the group in prayer.

SALE UNDER WAY

by Ellie Rumbaugh

Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, Discovery Club, and Horizon Club girls of Santa Clara County are having their Annual Product Sale through Tuesday, February 13. The girls are selling Mints, Almond Roca and, new this year, mixed nuts, all for $1 each.

They will be selling door to door and in the local shopping centers to earn credits for this summer's camping experiences and for money to use in their local groups. In addition each girl selling 72 units or more will receive a stuffed "Snooper Dog" of various sizes.

As a kick off for the sale District Nine held a Sing Along Rally at Moreland School last Thursday evening. Bob Amick played the guitar and led the girls in song. The Da kon ya Pah hlee oh Wee Camp Fire Girls led the flag ceremony. Under the supervision of Mrs. Noreen Proctor, District Nine product sale chairman, leaders, Mrs. Kathy Larson, Mrs. Joanne Mohr, and Mrs. Ellie Rumbaugh presented a skit on the Do's and Don'ts of participating in the sale.

Highlight of the evening was a life-size Snooper Dog who mingled with the girls and created much laughter. His identity was never made known, but the girls loved him.

WEST VALLEY COLLEGE WRESTLING

After notching a pair of impressive victories over Skyline and Canada, the West Valley College wrestlers will be out to make it four straight in Camino Norte Conference mat action when they hit the trail for Solano Thursday to meet the Falcons and Marin at 4 p.m.

Skyline fell to West Valley 30-19 last Friday but proved that any team is capable of improving. The first time the two teams met this year Skyline won only two matches in falling 37-7.

Six Vikings won both of their matches in the double dual match at Skyline. Two other WVC wrestlers won against Canada but lost to their Skyline foe.

Jamie Wheeler (Campbell) nailed his first of two wins on the day with a pin at 126 pounds and a tight 3-0 decision at 142. Mike Walker (Campbell) won by forfeit at 150.

Mark Sevigny (Del Mar) capped the afternoon with a forfeit win at heavyweight.

COUNTRY WOMAN

"New fabrics for spring," shown by Ms. Judy Grover of Stevens Yardage, will be the informative theme at the Monday, February 5 meeting of the Country Woman's Club of Campbell. The club will meet in the Fellowship Hall of the Campbell Congregational Church at 400 W. Campbell Ave. Committee for the day includes Mmes. Frank Meiss, chairman; Dean Chamberlin, Frank Jacobson, J. E. Giacomazzi, F. A. Ellis and C. W. Shockley.

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

by Erlene Cleveland

The Arts Festival, recently held at the Leininger Community Center in San Jose, featured many demonstrations and displays in the fields of arts and crafts, stitchery, photography and painting. In each division award ribbons were awarded to the best entries.

Entered as a group project by Brownie troop 1036 was a burlap banner on which each girl had yarn-stitched either her name or a small picture.

From Junior troop 702, Cheryl Stocking entered a macrame necklace and Susan Hambey submitted a handcrafted Form-a-Film floral arrangement. Julie Engelbrecht entered a decorative acrylic floral painting done on canvas.

Cadette troop 55 had four entries this year, two of which received second place awards. Joanie Bowers' red ribbon was awarded for her round, red ceramic cookie jar which was decorated with small glazed and unglazed flowers placed randomly on the jar. Laurie Cord entered the flower arranging division with an artificial floral and evergreen arrangement on driftwood. For this superb entry she received a second place red ribbon.

Also entered from the troop was a crocheted vest by Kathy Engelbrecht and a ceramic wall plaque made by Virginia Lowery.

Junior troop 1047 from Bucknall School attended the festival as a group to view their artistic collages on display. While there they enjoyed demonstrations in cake and cookie decorating and block printing.

During the day, Cadette troop 567 dropped into the Arts Festival to see if any of their entries in boutiquing, macrame, painting or photography had received awards. Excitement rode high when Mitzi Hack discovered that her photography entry had won first prize in its division.

Mitzi had entered an 8 x 10 photograph of a rainbow over Vernal Falls in Yosemite, taken during her troop's 70-mile backpacking trip. Leader of the troop, Mrs. Doris St. Germaine, had entered a mobile in the Adult Division of the festival.

HOLDS TIGHT

The limpet, a dime-sized molluck whose home is the tidal zones of ocean shores, has a suction so strong that it may require a 70-pound pull to remove it from a rock to which it is attached.

POLITICIANS IN OUR SCHOOL

by Colleen Rooney

Second semester ASB and class elections were held on January 23. Seniors Steve Hunt and Lester Rushin won in the primaries for ASB President. Steve Austin was elected vice-president, Cathy Myers, secretary and Mark Kassis, treasurer.

In the senior class Joe Disalvo was elected president, Debbi Nozumi as vice-president, Marilyn Bacci as secretary, and Julie LaMar as treasurer. Senior representatives are: Glenda Goyette, Jennifer Ereno and Alison Roberts.

Presiding over the class of '74 is Liz Rowe, with Laura McEwen as the junior V.P., Michele Oksen as secretary and Robin Nishijima as treasurer. The five junior representatives are: Dan Anisman, Naomi Cota, Janet Dixon, Reva Toro and Matt Walter.

The new sophomore class officers are: Gaylynn Nozumi, president; Stacee Schlosser, vice-president; Lucie Rufiange, secretary; and Cindy Blackman, treasurer. Sophomore representatives are Karen Baker, Joyce Burns, Jerry Cibilich, Monica Sanfilippo and Judy Slater.

Last but not least (?) we have our freshman officers. The underclassmen elected Carolyn Turturici as their prezz; Jerry Ford, vice-prezz; Janet Fischer, secretary, and Julie Burtis, treasurer. Frosh representatives are: Vicky Bardo, Diane Davis, Steve Esau, Kathy Fauske and Mary McMahon.

A BRUNCH! (MAYBE)

A 15-minute brunch may come back to Del Mar this second semester.

Last year in June this brunch, which comes between second and third periods worked out very well.

Various clubs took turns working in the snack bar.

WE KNEW THEY COULD

Del Mar's varsity basketball team is the sole holder of first place after beating Branham 77-69. The two teams were tied until the "Big Game" which gave the Dons a record of 6-0.

Every one of the Dons "top five" played great. George Todd and Scott Russell each had 18 points, Pete Ancona had 15 and Art Meade and Mark Bruening each had 13 points.

The game was very exciting and I am going to take back my personal statement about Campbell and Leigh having the most spirit. It has to be Branham rather than Campbell! (And Del Mar, of course.)

---PEACE---

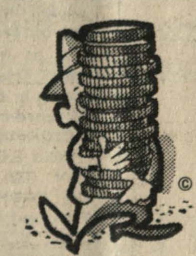
Speaking OF taxes



NOW IS THE TIME FOR . . .

Along with your 1040 or 1040A federal income tax form you also received form 4875, entitled, "Presidential Election Campaign Statement."

This contribution statement DOES NOT affect your refund. It allows individuals to allocate $1 of their total income taxes paid for the year ($2 on a joint return) to one of the political parties for use in the 1976 Presidential election.

For those who do not wish to specify any particular party, a non-partisan general account has been established.

This is not an automatic allocation.

Also, if you are receiving a refund of ALL income taxes withheld, you would not qualify.

For example:

You are single and had income taxes withheld of $2,400 for 1972. After completing your return you have a tax liability of $1,800 with $600 to be refunded. By completing this form you still receive the $600 refund, however, of the $1,800 you contributed in taxes for 1972, $1,799 is allocated to the general treasury fund and $1 to the new election fund.

STATE TAX REFUNDS

This year two different addresses are listed for returns mailed to the Franchise Tax Board. If you have a refund coming on state income taxes withheld be sure to send it to the correct address.

Refunds:
Franchise Tax Board
P. O. Box 13-540
Sacramento, CA 95813

Payments:
Franchise Tax Board
Sacramento, CA 95867

Using the incorrect address can delay your refund check.

NEW CHILD CARE DEDUCTION

While this liberalized federal deduction will be of benefit to many working couples there are several exceptions which should be noted.

1. In the case of a working mother, she must be employed on a substantially full-time basis to claim this deduction.

2. Payments made to most relatives (cousins excepted) are excluded.

Now to the deduction itself:

The new provisions allow up to a maximum of $4,800 in child and household help costs to be deducted as an itemized deduction on the federal Schedule A.

The deduction is limited to a MAXIMUM of up to $400 monthly.

Income levels for taking this deduction in full are now $1,500 monthly with earnings above that level reducing the deduction on a 2 to 1 radio.

For those who have their children cared for outside the home, there are further limitations. For one child the maximum allowed for expenses outside the home are $200 monthly. For two children it is $300 and for three or more it is $400.

To claim these expenses you must complete and attach form 2441 to your return. These forms can be obtained at the local IRS office.

Expenses for domestic household help are also included in these new provisions.

An Example:

During 1972 your wife worked 35 hours weekly for two months and 20 hours weekly for the remainder of the year. During that year you paid a babysitter $200 monthly to care for your two children ages 10 and 12. Only $400, (the two months full-time employment would be deducted on your federal income tax.

Note: The state child care deduction remains the same as last year.

This is, of necessity, a grossly simplified description of the new child care provision. For more complete information contact the IRS information number, 298-6700.

WAY OUT FRONT---One of the most promising young athletes in the Integra Track Team, Ann Regan, is some 60 yards ahead of her nearest competitor in a recent Menlo Park meet.

Local group builds champions

by Pat Safford

In the midst of dozens of organized sports groups, one previously unheard of Campbell-based team goes quietly about the business of developing and training athletes with national potential.

The Integra Track Club is now in its third year of encouraging and coaching girls and young women for track and field events.

Gerald Harrington, 1040 Steinway Ave., is head coach of the club while Carl Smallwood of San Jose serves as age group coach (girls 9-13). Larry Orlando of San Jose is sprint coach.

Two girls, Ann Regan and Christine Smallwood, have already gained national stature.

Ann, 11, 3276 Fawn Dr., last year set the fastest recorded time for the 440 yard dash; 62 seconds. Competing with 10 and 11-year-olds from throughout the country, she came in fourth in last year's meet.

"We expect her to be the best quarter miler in the United States this year," said Coach Smallwood. While her strongest race is the 440, Ann has also been running the 220. In the Pacific Association (which has some 33 track clubs) she's now second or third in the 220 yard dash, Smallwood said.

Christine, 13, has placed in the top ten nationwide during the past four years. (Last year she also placed first in California in the President's Physical Fitness testing program.)

GIRLS SPORTS IGNORED

Girls' sports have traditionally taken a seat in the back row of the theater in relation to boys' sports. Smallwood explains, "Girls' sports don't pay."

Another problem encountered in girls' athletics is the lack of a farm league system in league structure. "Boys not only have the local leagues," Smallwood said, "they can move on to the Central Coast League, then to the Northern Coast League, then to state level. Girls don't have anything like this."

OTHER PROBLEMS

The local track team keeps pressure on their runners at a minimum, Smallwood said. "We want them to feel like running when they're 15 and 16." One of the biggest problems in age group track, he said, is that girls who make a terrific showing when they're 9 through 12 will begin to drop out when they're 14 or 15. "They're tired," Smallwood said, "and they don't want the hassle." Integra girls work out no more than three times a week, the coach said, instead of the five and six times weekly of many clubs.

In addition, they do not train year-round like many groups. The season starts in November with practice track meets beginning in March and usually running through the first week in June.

Integra girls have already earned a spot at the Oakland Invitational Track Meet on February 10. Sponsored by the Pacific Association and held at California State at Hayward, the qualification heats saw four local girls clocked at 53.5 in the 440 relay. They were: Christine, Ann, Michelle Brigham, 12, of San Jose and Robin Holiday, 13, of East Palo Alto.

MONEY TROUBLES

Some of the best teams do not get the chance to take part in national competition, according to Smallwood, because of financial problems.

In the case of travel expenses, getting there can become the entire battle.

Last year Christine was able to attend the International meet at Madison Square Garden in New York City when her team received the funds to make the trip from a pharmaceutical firm in Southern California. "Some other teams that might have been better didn't get to do," Smallwood said.

FUND RAISING

Many track teams raise funds for their trips by having the girls sell raffle tickets, he said. Local girls are not put under this pressure. Funds for travel come from parents, in many cases, while the coaches also chip in.

In addition to the four girls already mentioned, other team members include: Kathy Hames, 9, Christy Mills, 8, Sharon Petty, 16, (a discus thrower attending Campbell High) and Charlene Lindstrom, 12, all Campbell residents; Lisa Snyder, 15, Sharon Wilson, 19, Bonita Brown, 16, Alexandra Davies, 11, and Holly Abbott, 10, all of San Jose; and Jackie Chambers, 15, of East Palo Alto. Kathy Smallwood, 20, was forced to quit the team this past year after suffering a heel injury. Her specialties were the 100, 220, and 440 yard dash. Two years ago she made the European track tour.

MONEY SPENT

One way to measure the ratio of interest between girls' and boys' sports is by funds spent on the respective programs. According to Smallwood, in San Francisco, for instance, the school district spent a reported $250,000 on their boys' programs and "nothing for the girls'."

COLLEGE ENCOURAGEMENT

While most colleges still largely ignore girls' athletics, at least one college in the Bay Area is showing special interest.

Cal State at Hayward has been encouraging girl athletes to attend college there, according to Smallwood. They are apparently showing a concern with developing top notch girls' athletic teams.

If current trends continue, there may even be athletic scholarships available for women within the next few years.

Football greats appear locally

Big Ben Davidson, Jim Otto and Gene Washington are three of the two dozen pro-football players participating in the benefit basketball game set for Friday and Saturday, February 9 and 10, at Foothill College.

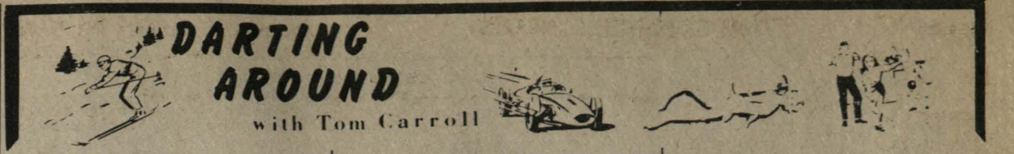
Co-hosted by the Campbell JayCees and the Camp for Dependent and Delinquent Wards, Inc., game time is 6:30 p.m. both days.

Team players from the Oakland Raiders, San Francisco 49ers, Los Angeles Rams and San Diego Chargers will take to the college court to benefit the Summer Camp for Dependent and Delinquent Wards, Inc. of Santa Clara County.

Locally, tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce office, 378-6252 and at Aero Pharmacy, 378-2462.

Ticket price is $3 for each evening's two-game performance. On Friday night the 49ers will be pitted against the Chargers in the 6:30 game, while the Raiders take on the Rams at 8:30 p.m.

Saturday night's Consolation Game will see the losing teams play the early game while the Championship Game gets under way at 8:30 p.m.



DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

The entries are out for the Indianapolis 500 mile race and one of the early entrants is Bill Vukovich. Vukovich will have his choice of two Dan Gurney built 1972 Eagles owned by Saratogan Jerry O'Connell.

Sponsored by the Mayfair Packing Co., the cars are known as the Sugaripe Prune Specials. While O'Connell bought both cars last year, only one of them ran during the season. Both cars are being prepared by Jud Phillips at his Inglewood, Calif. shops. Both cars are powered by 161-cubic-inch four cylinder turbocharged Drake-Offenhauser engines.

This brought the official entry list to six cars with Speedway president Tony Hulman expecting approximately 75 when entries close April 15.

Vukovich started driving on the USAC championship trail in 1967 and earned "Rookie of the Year" honors at Indianapolis the following year when he placed fifth in the "500".

After a disappointing 1970 season, he drove with remarkable consistency to earn third place in USAC's 1971 national championship standings and won official recognition as the circuit's most improved contestant.

His accomplishments that year included a fifth-place finish at Indianapolis, his best performance in five appearances there. This was in a Sugaripe Prune Special.

'72 SEASON

Last season he crashed after completing one lap at the Speedway with an average speed of 185.797 miles per hour. A week later after repairs were made to the car, he had a four lap average of 184.-814 mph. This put him in the 18th spot on race day. Mechanical problems forced him out of the race on the 54th lap after he had worked his way up to fourth place.

He had better racing luck during the rest of the championship trail, finishing as runnerup to San Jose's Joe Leonard for the National title. Bill's best finish of the year was a second in the Milwaukee 200-miler. He also placed third in the Ontario "500" and fourth in the Pocono "500" as well as in the Trenton "300" and the Milwaukee "150".

O'Connell had sponsored midgets on the USAC trail with his Shamrock Trucking Co. before getting involved in speedway cars. His first season was very poor. With an original investment of around $150,000, the cars only brought about $17,000. After hiring Jud Philips as crew chief and concentrating on one car, the last two seasons have been very good.

Aquatic team takes twelve

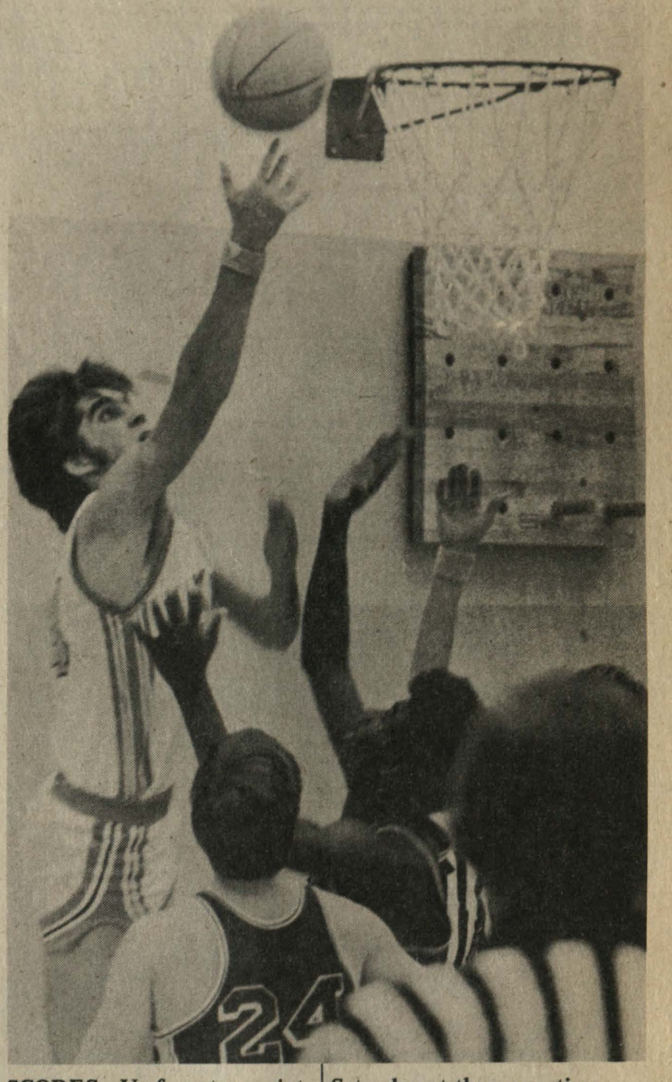
Twelve top places went to members of the West Valley Aquatic Team at the recent meet at Prospect High School in Saratoga.

The team took three first place spots, five second place and four third places. A total of 116 A.A.U. registered swimmers swam a total of 600 events at the meet.

Don Boutry took two of the first place awards. His wins came in the 500 free style and the 1650 free style.

On Saturday and Sunday, February 3 and 4, WVAT senior swimmers fly to Seattle, Washington for a Senior Meet. Eight local team members are attending. They are: Cheryl Roberts, Janet Cockran, Bibbi Smedh, Eva Wiker, Steve Austin, Greg Smith, Bertil Svensson and Mike Maurer.

Accompanying the swimmers will be Coach Rollo Koivisto.



SCORES---Up for a two pointer, Paul Boskovich (St. Francis) was a key figure in West Valley College's crucial 61-60 win over Marin last Saturday night but not as a scorer. Boskovich got only six points in the game and grabbed down 18 rebounds to lead the club in that category. The Vikings are tied for first place in the Camino Norte Conference.

West Valley will host two CNC opponents in the Campbell High School gym this week, meeting Solano Wednesday at 8 p.m. and Canada Saturday at the same time.

In the Marin game, Rick Hile (Mitty) canned a 15-foot jump shot with as many seconds left on the clock to put the Vikings ahead for the final count. Hile led all scorers with 17 points. West Valley had fallen behind by four at half-time intermission and regained the lead only at the final bucket. Tim Tolbert (Camden) scored 14 points; Tim Walsh (Mitty), 10, and Bruce Batinich (Blackford), eight.

WEST VALLEY HIKING CLUB

Last year the Campbell-based West Valley Hiking Club offered over 80 outings to some 1200 young people.

Trips ranged from weekend backpacking in Yosemite through extended mountaineering and cycling trips in the Northern Cascades of Washington and the Canadian Gulf Islands. This non-profit group is almost completely staffed by volunteers, according to Leon Berthiaume, club director.

Area teachers and young people help with planning the junkets and in staffing the office (an older home on East Hamilton Avenue).

SURVIVAL TRIPS

Two Winter Survival Trips and two beginning Cross Country Skiing trips are planned in February. The trips are scheduled for the three day weekends of Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays. The trips are open to all young people between 14 and 17 years of age who are in good physical condition, indicated Berthiaume.

The Survival Trips will take place in the Desolation Valley Wilderness Area near Lake Tahoe and the Cross Country Skiing trips will be run near Kennedy Meadows near Sonora Pass. The Cross Country skiing groups will spend nights at the Club's wilderness cabin near Sierra City, Berthiaume said.

The purpose of the survival trips will be to give the young people an opportunity to learn first hand the skills necessary to survive in a hostile winter environment.

The trips are preceded by two evening seminars at the Hiking Club office in Campbell. At these seminars such topics as shelter, clothing and equipment will be thoroughly discussed in addition to other survival requirements.

Interested individuals should call or write the Hiking Club for a descriptive brochure. The Club's address is 409 E. Hamilton, 374-3311. Office hours 3 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

SNOW SLOPE---Ice axe in hand, John Gurley ascends a steep snow slope on Pyramid Peak in the Desolation Valley Wilderness area near Lake Tahoe during a recent West Valley Hiking Club winter trip in that area. The Campbell based Club offers a full range of wilderness trips for youth of all ages throughout the year.

LIFE-SAVERS — Battalion Chief Robert G. Olson (center), of Los Gatos, of the Central Fire District, received a medal from Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens, chairman of the board, in recognition for off-duty heroism. Chief Olson saved the life of an 18-month-old girl who had fallen into a swimming pool. Fireman Jesus Ramirez (left), was also awarded a medal for saving the life of an unconscious swimmer. The awards were the first of the federal "Medical Self-Help Humanitarian" medals given in California.

A NEW TWIST?

One burglary reported to Campbell police last week had a curious twist.

While the value of items stolen from a local apartment was set at some $270, the victim found other items left at the scene that were of equal or of even greater value.

Planning Commission studies kennel noises Monday

Although three months have elapsed since the Planning Commission first recommended approval of the zone change to allow a dog kennel at 1849 Pollard Road, the issue is again on the agenda of the Planning Commission for next Monday, February 5.

In recommending approval of the zone change request of Joyce Kealoha in November, the Planning Commission specified that the approval was dependent on a reasonable sound level for the operation.

The City Council, however, felt that "reasonable" should be defined and referred the matter back to the Commission for a more specific recommendation.

Thus the Planning Commission, after several continuances, next Monday is scheduled to explore the sound level of barking dogs more extensively.

Since the first time around, two acoustical engineers, reflecting different viewpoints, have submitted reports. One of the reports was submitted on behalf of Fred Chez, owner of adjacent property, who has opposed the zone change and kennel operation from the beginning.

Another item on the agenda next Monday concerns the modified landscaping plans of the trailer sales operation of Garland J. Spear at 175 Curtner. There have been changes in the landscaping from that originally approved, according to planning staff personnel.

Revised plans for the proposed commercial building of Bill Jones, in which a SCUBA diving and swimming operation is contemplated at 2110 Winchester Blvd. will also be before the Commission next Monday.

The hearing on the application of James W. Foug on behalf of Ziegler Development Co. for a shopping center at Llewellyn and Hamilton, continued from a previous meeting, is also scheduled for next Monday, as is the application of Verne L. Buckle for a plumbing shop and offices at 240 Dillon Ave.

An application by Carpeteria, at 423 Hamilton Ave., for a free-standing pole sign is also on the agenda.
